In 1893 "Belgie" was added to all stamps as the Flemings had complained that only the French name "Belgique" had appeared on the stamps.

"no ball to 5 in upper left corner" Scott 68a

Also in 1893, a campaign began to reduce postal work on Sundays. All stamps issued had a "Dominical Label" or "bandalettes" attached that read "Do not deliver on Sunday" in both languages. The sender could leave the label intact to indicate that Sunday delivery was not desired. The experiment ended in 1914.

Express cover to Germany backstamped "Köln-Verviers/Bahnpost/ Z.101. 28.3.28" and "Hannover / 28.3.28. 1-2N." Stamps are perfinned "BONN" (reversed on 35c).

In 1946, to provide denominations resulting from a reduction in postal rates, the Government typographically surcharged three issues for nationwide distribution.

Also, on May 20, 1946, each post office was authorized to surcharge its stock of 1.50fr, 2fr, and 5fr stamps "-10%." Hundreds of types and sizes exist, both typographed and handstamped.
