These stamps were issued on January 27, 1975 to commemorate the 2nd anniversary of the Paris Agreement on Viet-Nam. This agreement was negotiated between Henry Kessinger of the United States and Le Duc Tho of North Viet-Nam. It provided for the United States withdrawing its troops in March of 1973 and resulted in the Viet Minh winning control of South Viet-Nam in April of 1975.

The green stamp depicts U.S., South Viet-Nam, North Viet-Nam and the Revolutionary Provisional Government signing the cease fire agreement in Paris on January 27, 1973. The blue stamp depicts the International Conference in session. The stamps were printed in panes of 100.

These five stamps were issued on February 3, 1975 to commemorate the 45th anniversary of the formation of the Indochinese Communist Party which was formed in 1930 in Hong Kong by Ho Chi Minh. The four 12 xu stamps depict some of the founders of the Party. These stamps are almost identical to the ones issued in 1968 to commemorate the Party's 40th anniversary. The 60 xu value depicts Ho Chi Minh as he looked in 1924.

These four stamps were issued in 1975, perhaps September 15th, to commemorate the 30th anniversary of the People's Republic of Poland. In July, 1944, the Soviet government sponsored the formation of a Polish Committee of National Liberation, an organization largely dominated by communists. This Committee established headquarters at Lublin, Poland and proclaimed itself the provisional government of Poland on December 31, 1944.

The stamps depict the Nike Monument, and they were designed by T. Luong.

This is one of a number of stamps issued on September 15, 1975 to commemorate the anniversaries of various communist and/or socialist nations. This one commemorates the 20th anniversary of Algeria's war for independence. On November 1, 1954, the date inscribed on the stamp, a nationalist uprising in a mountainous area of East Algeria brought French troops into the area to restore order. Algeria finally achieved its independence in 1962.

~~This is the first stamp issued by Viet-Nam since the reunification. It was issued on June 24, 1976.~~

This stamp received some publicity because the map pointedly included the Paracel and Spratly Islands, all also claimed by Peking. According to Newsweek, "Taiwan and the Philippines also have laid claim to the Spratlys and, like Vietnam, have armed forces stationed there. Hanoi has broadcast propaganda claiming the islands, but this is the first time it has, in effect, put the claim in writing, and the protests are expected to escalate accordingly."

The stamp depicts a map of Vietnam with the ancient border drawn at Ngao-tu in the background.
