TO TEAM AER LINGUS, THE OWNER OF THE AIRLINE OF THE YEAR IS JUST ANOTHER CLIENT

Richard Branson. Mr Branson, sir. A man with an unnerving ability to make a success of anything he turns his hand to, from record companies to airlines.

It only took Virgin Atlantic a few years to be voted Airline of the Year. To win such an award needs strong managerial sense. So who did Mr. Branson choose to maintain his fleet of Boeing 747's?

TEAM Aer Lingus, naturally.

After all, we've enjoyed our own company successes. Our state of the art Dublin Airport base has won the US and Irish Environmental Protection awards, and we've been voted 'Employer of the Year'.

But just because Mr. Branson owns the airline of the year doesn't mean his aircraft get treated differently to any other airlines.

Every aircraft maintained by TEAM gets the same rigorous treatment.

Every item is accounted for, checked, and double checked. And all within a tight schedule.

To any airline, time is money - and the time an aircraft spends grounded for routine maintenance and checks is money lost. Before Mr. Branson came to us, he'd never had a regular 'C' check completed on time.

Which is why TEAM Aer Lingus ensure our entire workforce has the equipment, skills and motivation to provide the best service, at competitive rates, within a guaranteed turn-around time; an investment in not only our own future, but in yours.

Recent contracts for fleet maintenance from airlines worldwide show how the reputation of our company has spread.

When the Airline of the Year is just another of our clients, what other recommendation could you want?

TEAM AER LINGUS, AN IRISH PEDIGREE WITH AN INTERNATIONAL REPUTATION.

When you see a thoroughbred Irish horse run, you're watching more than a combination of speed, stamina, grace and power.

You're watching an animal with an international reputation.

It's a reputation that's a testimony to the skill and dedication of Irish breeders and trainers; a commitment to producing the best.

Irish skills and dedication are attributes prized in any field; at TEAM Aer Lingus, they're the basis of our company philosophy.

We supply customers with a winning combination, a total aircraft maintenance and support service from nose to tail.

Recent contracts for fleet maintenance from the five continents show how our international reputation for dependability has grown.

But the basis of our success still lies in the dedication of our entire work-force to become, like Irish horse breeders, renowned as world experts, with the technology and training to match, in the field of aircraft maintenance.

He's possibly the fussiest man in airframe maintenance.

That's why you'll like him so much.

John O'Loughlin is the Aircraft Overhaul Manager here at TEAM Aer Lingus and is responsible for all aircraft overhaul work. He's not an easy man to please, just ask anyone who works with him. It's this commitment from John and all his colleagues that has made TEAM a world leader, specialising in the airframe overhaul of Boeing 737's (all series) 727's, 767's and 747's. We also offer airframe overhaul facilities on Boeing 707's and DC-8's. In addition we have extensive experience in ageing aircraft modification programmes.

We believe it's the quality of our workmanship, speed of turnaround and cost effectiveness that sets us apart from the rest. Don't take our word for it, ask any of our customers, they'll tell you just how fussy John can be about his work.
