SUID-AFRIKAANSE SEELEWE

Nr. 1 ... Engelvis

Platax Pinnatus (Linnaeus).
(Platax vespertilio Bloch. Platax teira Forsk.
Platax orbicularis Forsk.) Angel Fish (Delagoa).
Seabat. Batfish. Literature I 4, 47, 69, 328, 615, 660.

Body as deep as long. D V 28-38, spines almost concealed. A III 24-29. Pectorals short, pelvics elongate. Caudal truncate. 8-10 gill-rakers. Scales small and rough. The young are yellow or orange, but the colour and cross-bars fade with growth, the adult being dusky. Attains 26 ins. Widely distributed in the warm waters of the Indo-Pacific, not uncommon on our east coast, occasional stragglers wander as far south as Knysna. Usually captured in nets. Edible flesh not valued. The young when startled wrinkle up the long fins, lie inert, and sink slowly, looking much like a dead leaf.
