

When the local printers found that the first POSTAGE overprint was too large to make the ½d stamps properly they tried a different font in a smaller size. This time they set the type foot to foot. Genuine copies are said to be aligned SW – NE.

