Another stamp was reprinted in 1921 but having no watermark. The one rupee 'IR' overprint was on a Turkish stamp having only one tougra
, one device instead of two in the earlier version.
The 'Reshad' Toughra was thus removed.

In 1922, Iraq gained its independence under mandate to Britain. The occupation stamps were then superseded by the first Iraqi stamps issued in 1923, employing exclusively local themes. The Indian currency was retained until 1932 when new currency involving the Fils and the Dinar was introduced.
