POLYNESIE FRANCAISE

are the official sales for the most scarce stamps of French Polynesia. I provide the Yvert and Scott numbers (in parentheses are the complete set numbers from Scott if the stamps are part of a set) and the official sales figure.

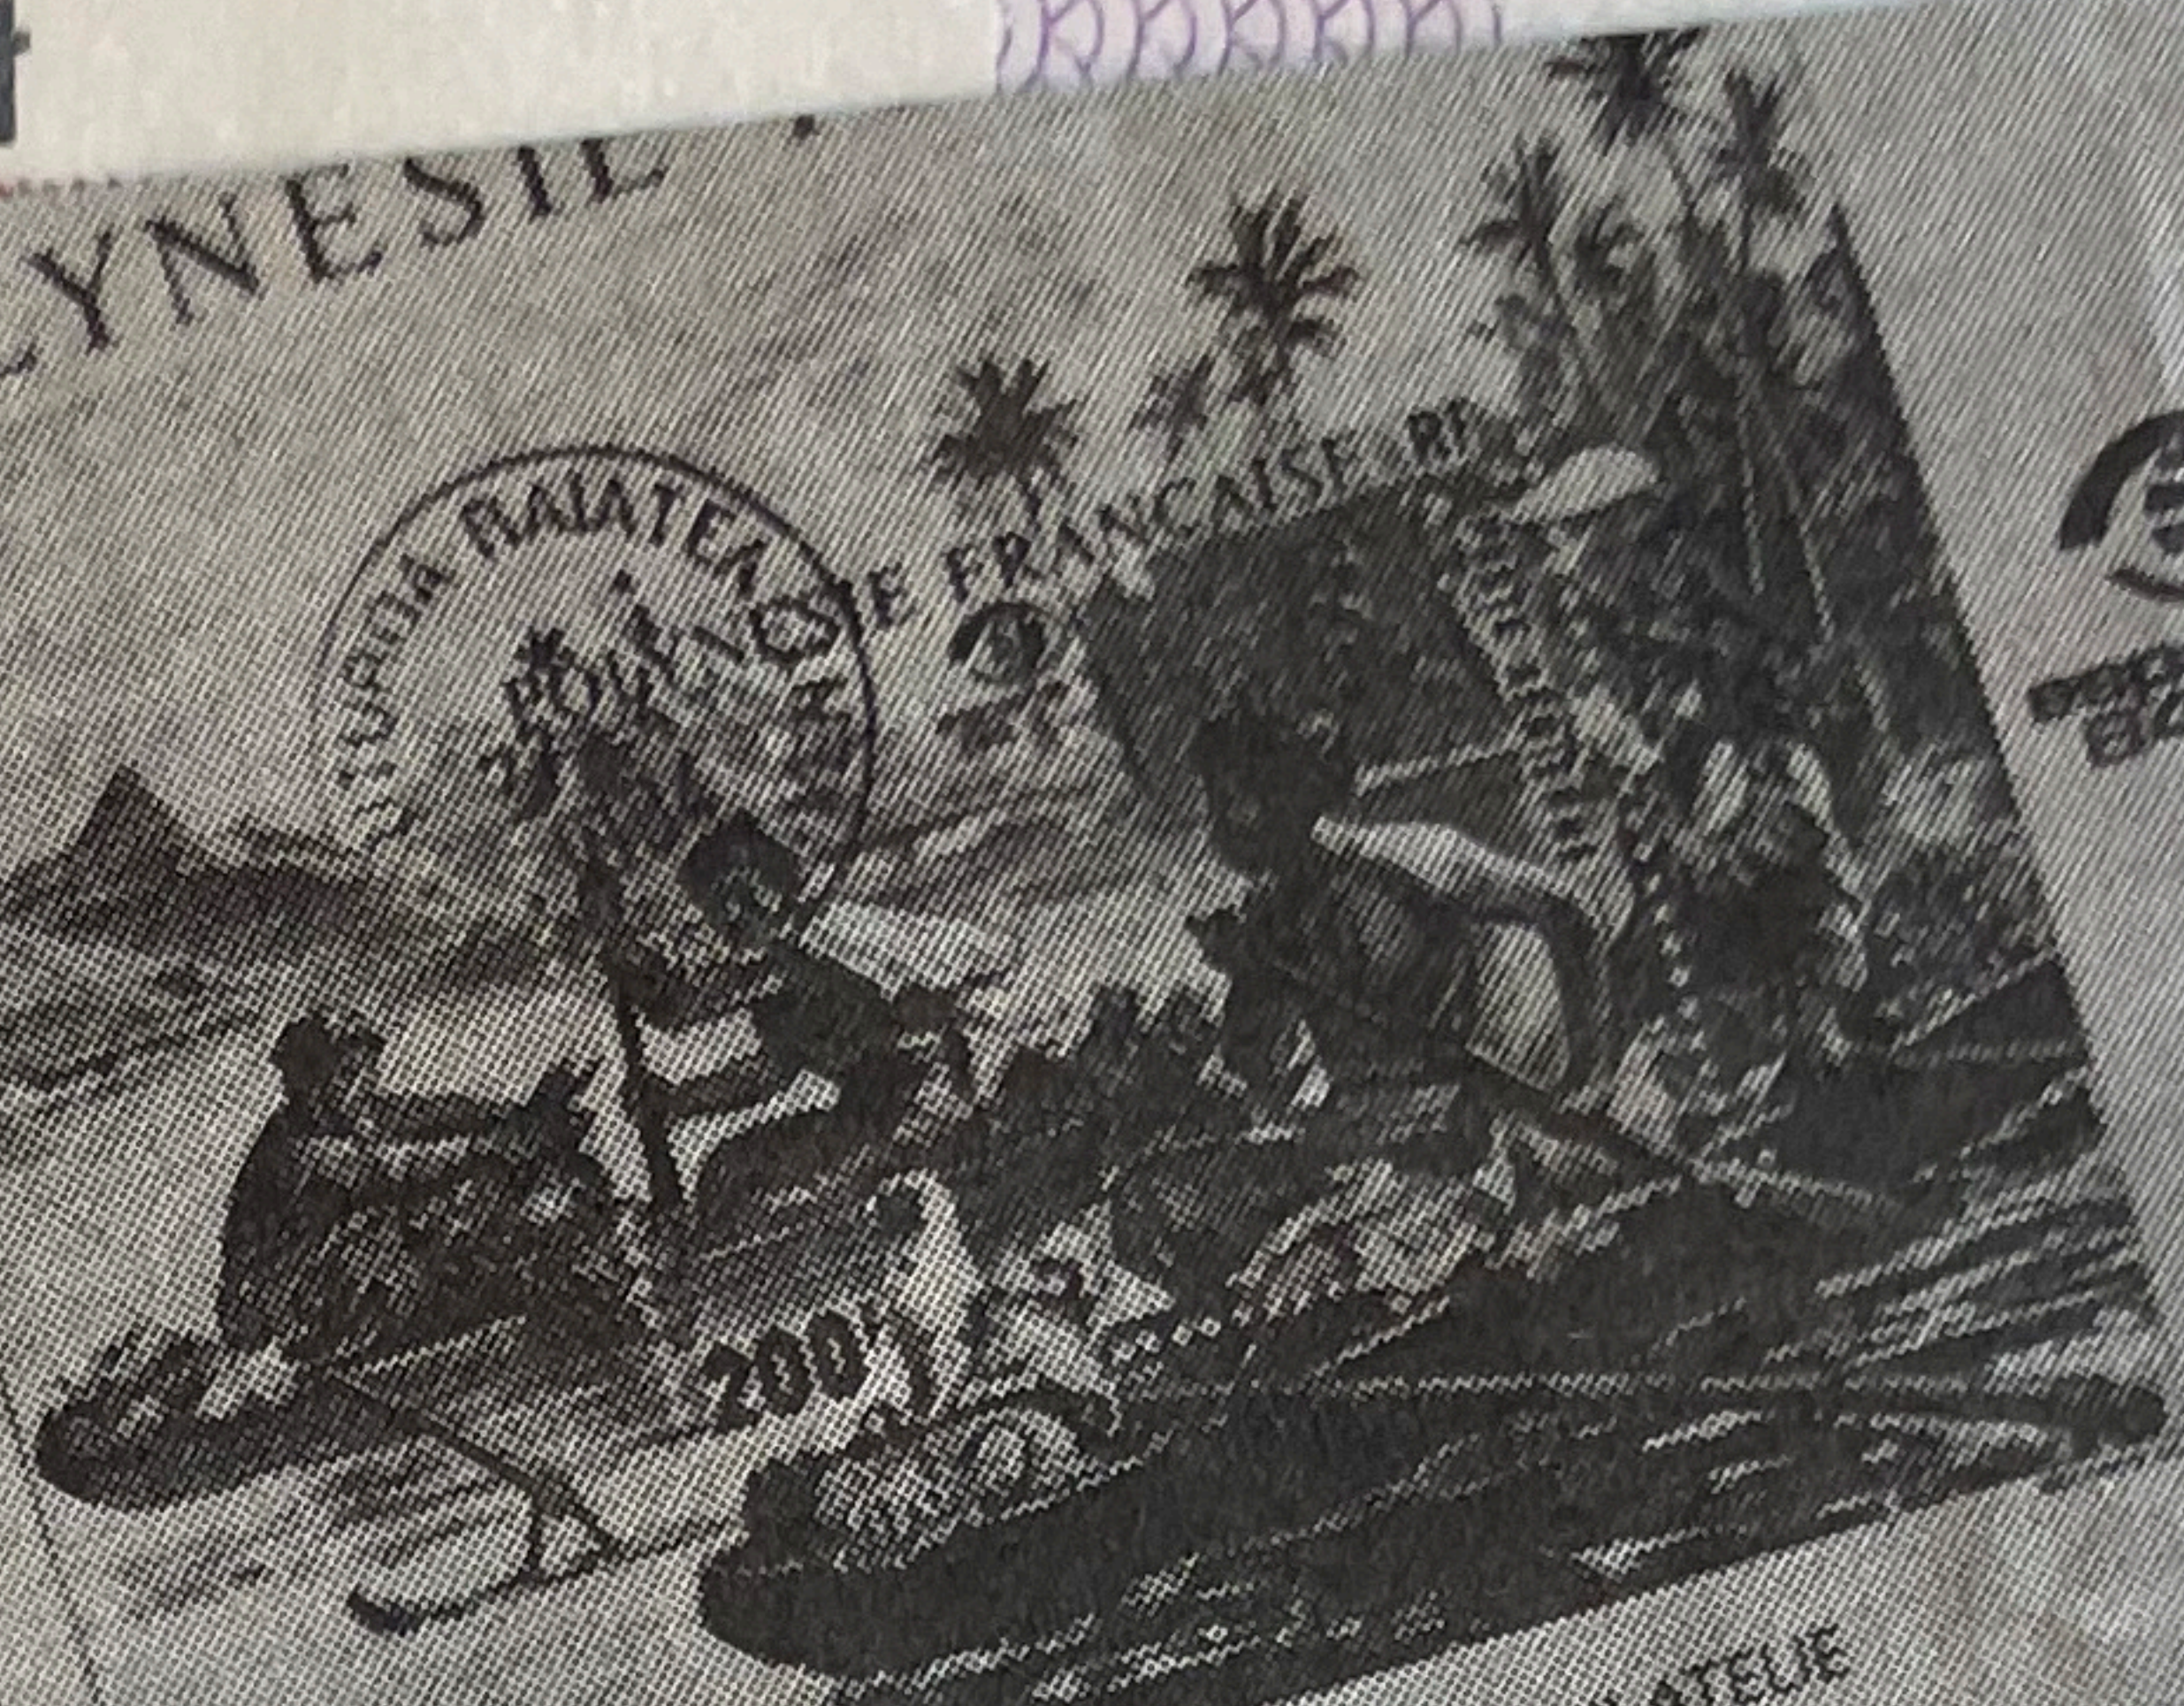

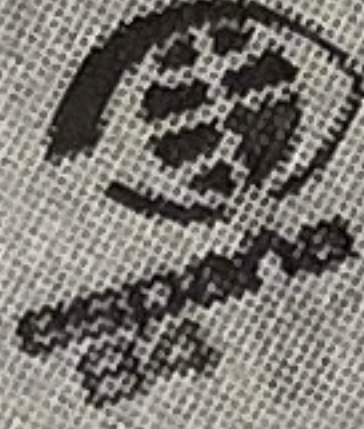

Finally, a word about imperforate stamps of French Polynesia, which appear on the market from time to time and which can be obtained in France from a few dealers only on a regular basis.

There exist exactly 475 imperforate stamps of each issue, and these stamps never get as far as Tahiti. They are distributed in Paris and are sold at highly speculative prices.

Whether one likes it or not, they are a fact and cannot be ignored by the stamp collector, with German for the stamp in the stamp market for close to $50 either condition.

EXPOSITION MONDIALE DE PHILATELIE
MADRID, 27 Avril à 6 Mai 1984

Not mentioned in the accompanying article by Karl Meyer, but strongly recommended by him is the Madrid souvenir sheet issued April 27, 1984, to mark the World Philatelic Exposition in Madrid, Spain. Issued only as a souvenir sheet, the item was sold out after two months. As a postally used single it is practically nonexistent.

and Palatinate sets worthy of investment

Pictured is just one of several Rhineland Palatinate sets recommended to investors. Issued in 1949, it commemorates 100 years of German philately.

There were 400,000 sets issued of the UPU commemorative. If you are at all interested in the set, it can be found in several places for around $12 MNHFVF.

These are not the scarcest sets in the world, but they do have some investment merit in that they are 1) part of the complete Germany collection, 2) easily collected as a small entity in and of themselves, 3) have very considerable topical appeal, and 4) are moving now to what appears to be the nadir of their retail value.

Of special interest to serious collectors would be first and last day covers of these issues; some exist, but they are tough to find, which is precisely why specialist collectors would be happy to have them. ■
