II. Great Britain - England

Scottish Caledonian Railway Connection

The railway replaced coaches for public transportation, good shipping and mail delivery, reducing cost and time. First railway to have a TPO in Scotland was the Caledonian Railway, first known postmarks in 1852. Caledonian Railway west coast route via Carlisle commenced in 1848. The trip from London to Edinburgh or Glasgow was reduced from 43 hours to 17, by the 1880s it was further reduced to an 8 hour trip.
