

in 1951 an audit was carried out. The number of stamps on each page was recorded and certified by a postal official at St. Louis, Senegal, the de facto administrative capital of the two colonies separated by the Senegal River.

