

IRELAND - OVERPRINTS.

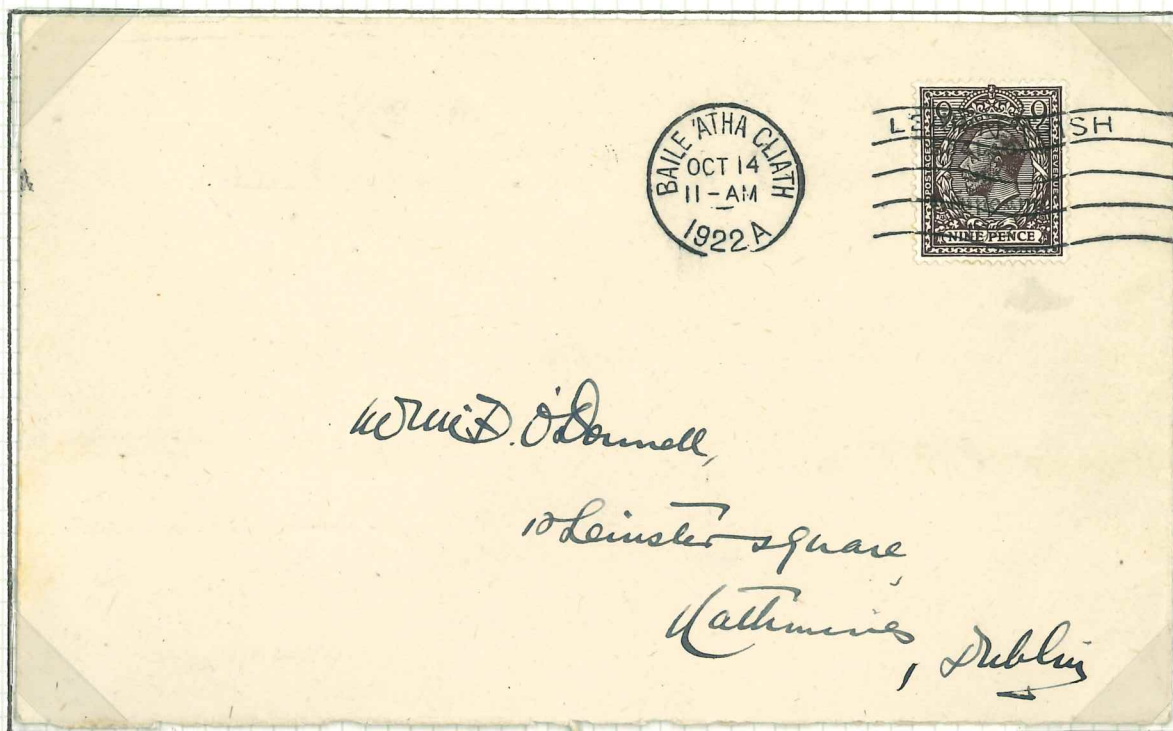

9d agate with Dollard overprint in black.

First day of Issue. 17 February 1922.

IRELAND - OVERPRINTS.

Hey-Dolphin machine cancel in use from 1916. The slogan "LEARN IRISH" was used only in Dublin during the months from July to November 1922.

Apparently during the first half of 1922 the "A" name die was damaged, the outer ring being broken below the '22' of 1922. It continued to be used in this state until November 1922 when a fire at the Rotunda Sorting office destroyed both both it and die "B".