LIMERICK INSTITUTION.

As considerable misconception prevails with regard to the existing state of the Limerick Institution, the Committee think it right to submit to the Public the following statement :—

This Institution was formed in the year 1809, and at that time met with very general support. From various causes, however, which it is not necessary now to mention except with regret, it subsequently languished until the commencement of the year 1832, since which time it has begun to revive and to afford the hope of its becoming the germ of a literary establishment alike useful and honorable to this City. It is a frequent theme of just regret, that in so large and important a place as Limerick there exists no adequate repository of Literature and Science. Those who use such language are now called upon to come forward and assist in giving this character to an Institution which, though at one time threatened with dissolution, has yet continued in existence, unaided by Government during a period of twenty-four years. It has the advantage of already possessing above Seventy Subscribers, with an Annual Income of about £140, and a Library consisting of about 1,900 vols., valued at £400, many of them works of first-rate merit, together with a set of mineralogical specimens, which, under good arrangement, would form a very tolerable commencement of a collection.

The subscription which entitles a person to become a Proprietor is £3 3s., with an annual payment of £2. Yearly Subscribers pay only 30s., in return for which they have access to the Library and News-room, but are not admitted to the privilege enjoyed by Proprietors of taking books to their own houses, nor are they allowed to participate in the management of the Institution. Officers pay £1 for each six months that they subscribe. The present Annual expenses are as follows :—

Newspapers,	£40
Periodicals,	10
Rent,	40
Librarian,	20
Coals and Candles,	10
Incidentals,	10
	£130

It is computed that the following expenditure would be required to place it upon a footing of more extended usefulness :—

Rent,	£100
Librarian,	30 with apartments,
Newspapers,	50
Periodicals,	10
Porter and Maid Servant,	25
Coals and Candles,	25
Literary Objects,	100
	£340

Of this sum £140 being already provided, it is only necessary to enlist 100 additional Subscribers, and it would indeed be humiliating to think that among the Nobility and Gentry of the Counties of Limerick and Clare, as well as among the respectable persons of all classes residing in the City of Limerick, there cannot be found sufficient public spirit or literary taste to complete this number. It is extremely probable that if the Institution should meet with effective local support, the Government would aid it with their assistance.
